Bye-Law No 2

Organisation, Structure and Control of Institute Committees
Notes to Bye-Law No 2

1. The following primary considerations form the basis of the conduct of the Institute. These considerations, together with the necessary requirement of appropriate experience, dictate the composition of all Institute committees, but primarily of its Main Committees, i.e. those which have responsibility for the Institute and the conduct of its business.

   a) The proceedings of the Institute shall be conducted democratically.

   b) Decisions shall be taken on the basis of the best advice available.

   c) Decisions shall be taken for the overall benefit of the Institute in line with its charitable objects.

   d) The Institute is its members and it is the members’ Institute.

2. The term “chair”, rather than "chairman", is used throughout this Bye-Law, as there exists an equal opportunity for the office to be held by a woman.

3. The composition of Institute Main Committees relies heavily upon nominations from Institute groups. The object of this arrangement is to ensure that committee deliberations are informed by the widest consideration of all viewpoints within the Institute and to aid communication between committees.

4. This Bye-Law regulates the committees of the Institute and takes precedence over the terms of reference for those committees.

5. The Institute is also a certification body offering certification of management systems in compliance with the EN ISO 9000 series of standards, and certification of personnel for compliance with various standards covering inspection, testing and monitoring, such as EN ISO 9712 and ISO 18436. The certification body is structured so as to give confidence to interested parties in its competence, impartiality and integrity, and Bye Law number 4 is established to address these essential requirements.

ORGANISATION, STRUCTURE AND CONTROL OF INSTITUTE COMMITTEES

Bye-Law No 2

1. COMMITTEES

1.1 The following Committees shall be established by Council:
   - Finance Committee (FC)
   - Establishment Review Panel (ERP)
   - Membership, Qualification & Education Committee (MQ&E)
   - NDT Technical Committee (NDTTC)
   - CM Technical Committee (CMTC)
   - Certification Management Committee (CMC)
   - ‘Trade and Industry’ Committee.
   - Marketing Committee (also known as the Marketing Working Group (MWG))
   - Croxson Committee (Awards and Recognition)
   - Governance Advisory Committee (GAC)

1.2 Council and these committees are empowered to set up and dissolve such subcommittees, working groups and advisory groups as is deemed appropriate.

1.3 The composition and responsibilities and the procedure for appointing the Chairs of these Committees is given in Annex A.

1.4 The following committees are the ‘main Committees’ cited in Bye-law No. 1 the Chairs of which are deemed to be full voting members of Council (subject to other conditions): MQ&E, NDTTC, CMTC, CMC and Trade & Industry.

   In exercising their responsibilities committees shall have due regard for the paramount power of Council and for the need to conduct the business of the Institute with expedition and efficiency.

   All material financial expenditure is subject to approval by the Finance Committee.

2. OTHER COMMITTEES

In addition, subcommittees, working groups and advisory groups will be established to oversee such technical or other type of activity as may from time to time be undertaken. These subcommittees, working groups and advisory groups will operate under rules approved by Council.

Those subcommittees and working groups, to which decision-making is delegated, shall report to Council indirectly through one or more of the oversight committees listed in Section 1 above. An example of such a group is the Engineering Council Working Group which makes registration decisions on behalf of Council. The ECWG reports to Council through MQ&E.

Advisory groups that are established to advise Council shall report directly to Council. An example of this is the Diversity and Inclusion Advisory Group (DIAG).

Similarly, advisory groups that are established to advise some other committee shall report to the committee that established it (subject to the requirement to work under rules approved by Council).
3. MEETINGS FREQUENCY & APPOINTMENT OF CHAIR

3.1 Ordinary meetings of all committees shall take place at frequencies according to custom and practice, usually not more than four times a year. Extraordinary meetings may be convened by the committee chair on the advice of the Institute CEO or at the request of not less than three committee members.

3.2 It is good practice for each committee to hold an AGM as part of one of its meetings each year in order to ‘take stock’ of its composition and review its terms of reference.

4. REPORTING

4.1 The chairs of the Committees listed in 1 above shall cause regular reports to be sent to Council. In order to keep the amount of business before Council at manageable levels, chairs are encouraged to employ “by exception” principles in their reports but will nevertheless invariably report to Council any major changes in Institute practice proposed and of departures from precedent.

4.2 The chairs of subcommittees and working groups are to report as often as circumstances require to their respective Committee.

5. QUALIFICATION

5.1 Membership of the Institute’s Committees, except the Trade and Industry Committee, is open to all voting members of the Institute as listed in the Institute’s register of members.

5.2 Membership of the Trade and Industry Committee is open to Associate Member nominees and all full members of the Institute, nominated by their employer, providing the employing organisation is itself an Associate Member of the Institute.

5.3 The chairs of the 5 Main Committees (see 1.4) shall be full members of and have full voting rights on the Institute’s Council.

7. CO-OPTION

Committees may co-opt one or more individuals with relevant specialist knowledge or qualifications, to assist them in specific areas of the committee’s work. This should be on an exceptional basis rather than as a regular arrangement. Such co-opted member(s) shall fulfil the general and specific requirements of that committee. Co-opted members have no voting rights and their presence does not count towards a quorum.

8. TENURE

8.1 The tenure of ex-officio members is self-regulating.

8.2 All other committee members are appointed on an annual basis but ordinarily will serve a term of three years.

8.4 If a person ceases to be a chair for one of the main committees named above at 1.4, that person shall cease to be a director of the Institute.

8.5 The chair can be removed from office by secret ballot of the committee, by a simple majority vote.
9. SUBSTITUTION

Attendance by a deputy for an elected member of a Committee who is unable to attend is not permitted. Exceptionally, if a member nominated to a committee by another Institute committee is unable to attend the meeting of that committee, he/she may arrange for the attendance of an alternative nominated by the committee concerned, providing such alternative fulfils the appropriate membership requirements for membership of that committee.

10. STAFF INVOLVEMENT IN COMMITTEES

It is expected that relevant staff will attend and participate in committee meetings. Staff members do normally have a vote and are counted in the meeting quorum (unless specified in Annex A below that staff members who attend a committee do so in a non-voting capacity in which case they do not have a vote and are not counted in the quorum for the meeting).

11. REIMBURSEMENT OF MEMBERS' EXPENSES

Rules covering this are given in Annex C.

12. VOTING

When a vote is taken the outcome will be decided by a simple majority of those present.

13. PRESIDENT

The President is an ex-officio member of, and may receive all the papers of, all committees.
ANNEX A – COMPOSITION AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF COMMITTEES

If a vacancy arises for the Chair, the above BINDT Senior Officers shall agree and nominate a successor Chair to hold office until the inauguration of the next President.

ANNEX B - INSTITUTE ORGANISATION (at the time of writing)

Strategies plus Departments plus Oversight (on behalf of Council)
ANNEX C - REIMBURSEMENT OF MEMBERS' EXPENSES

1. Principle

Ordinarily it will be assumed that all members accepting elected office or a committee place have access to support for travelling and subsistence costs and no claims will be admitted.

2. Exceptions

   2.1 When a member is performing specific tasks over and above the normal work of a committee and which could not be carried out by another person or when the member’s financial support is removed during this period of office and his or her continuance is essential, claims may be admitted.

   2.2 When the support assumed in paragraph 1 is not available to the President, claims may be admitted.

3. Authorisation

Outline applications for reimbursement of costs to persons eligible vide paragraph 2.1 above are to be supported by the chair of the relevant committee (or an honorary officer when the subject is the committee chair).

4. Reimbursement

In these exceptional cases the cost of travel by the most economic means would be met. If a car is used, only fuel costs would be paid. Any accommodation required would be arranged by the Institute.

5. Claim

Claims arising from members under these provisions are to be approved by an honorary officer and debited to a separate budget heading.

6. Overseas travel

There will be instances which require the presence of the President or his or her authorised deputy to attend meetings overseas. Because it is unreasonable to expect employers to carry this burden, special arrangements will apply. The need for and the cost of such journeys will be specially authorised by a panel comprising the President, honorary officers and the chair of the Finance Committee.
